Credit Reference Agencies

When you make this request to become an Account Holder as defined in our Personal or Business Terms and Conditions (dependent on what type of account you are opening), Reliance Bank will make various checks in order to assess your eligibility to become an Account Operator, to verify your identity and to prevent and detect crime and money laundering. Reliance Bank will search records held by credit reference agencies (CRA's) when considering this request. On-going searches may be necessary once a year.

Fraud Prevention Agencies

If you give false or inaccurate information and fraud is identified or suspected, details may be passed to fraud prevention agencies and/or CRAs to prevent fraud and money laundering. Law enforcement agencies may access and use this information.

Any decision by Reliance Bank to accept your request to become an Account Operator in relation to the Account identified in section 1 (the Relevant Account) will be based on the information set out in this request. By signing this form, you declare that the information set out in this request is, to the best of your knowledge and belief, correct and not misleading. If it alters at any time you must tell Reliance Bank promptly in writing.

If your request is accepted, you will not have any rights under Terms and Conditions in your capacity as Account Operator. However the Relevant Entity will be responsible for your acts or omissions as if they were its own. We have recommended that the Relevant Entity should make you aware of its obligations to Reliance Bank under the Terms and Conditions.

Before signing this form you should carefully read the Personal or Business Terms and Conditions (dependent on what type of account you are opening). If there is anything you do not understand then please discuss it with a Reliance Bank Customer Service Representative before signing this form.

By signing this form the applicant confirms that the email address provided may be used by the Bank as a means of corresponding with the business/organisation. It is the applicant's responsibility to advise the Bank of any changes to this address
